The PIC voted in favour of all above resolutions in order to give effect to the proposed BEE transaction.

Summary of the Deal:

- MVL has been trying to do a deal that ensures it becomes black controlled, as agreed with AngloPlats, which in turn needs this to ensure that it earns the full BEE credits for having originally sold 50% of Booyendal to Khumama (who on-sold it to MVL, who in turn sold an option on it to Northam).
- The deal proposes introducing Afripalm as the second major BEE shareholder (after Tokyo Sexwale's Mvela Holdings), which will put voting control (of 50.6%) in black hands.
- The Department of Minerals and Energy is fully behind this deal that will ultimately result (once MVL gets control of Northam) in a black-controlled operating platinum player.
- Afripalm will pay R1.168bn in cash for 40 million MVL ordinary shares (R29.20 per share, being a 15% discount to the 30-day VWAP on 5 December 2006 – announcement day).
- The discount being given is for 2 reasons:
 - the lock-up (i.e. Afripalm cannot encumber or sell its MVL ordinary shares before 1 May 2014); and
 - for the exclusive option that Afripalm has given MVL that all mining-related opportunities that may accrue to the Afripalm group globally, will have to be offered to MVL first.
- Afripalm will pay R700,000 in cash for 35 million MVL A ordinary shares (par value of 2c per share). These shares will only have voting rights equivalent to ordinary shares, but have no other entitlement whatsoever. On 1 May 2014, all A ordinary shares in issue will be deemed to have been repurchased by MVL at par value.

		Conclusion
		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The proposed deal is critical for the future viability of MVL as a BEE company that can ultimately get control of Northam and become a black-controlled operational platinum player. While the discounts offered to Lazarus Zim may appear generous, the reality is that without this deal, MVL runs the risk that AngloPlats exercises its call option on 17.5% of MVL's holding in Northam at only R8.60/share (i.e. a 84% discount to the current market price) and MVL will lose R1.8bn in value or 23% of its market cap.

employees of the company. The revised Article 34 will also provide for the indemnification of directors, officers and employees of subsidiaries of the company, as well as persons who, at the specific written request of the company or a subsidiary, represents the company or subsidiary in an entity which is not a subsidiary, as a director, officer, trustee, governor or employee. It also makes certain aspects and wording of Article 34 more clear. It inter alia makes it clear that directors and officers cannot be indemnified against a liability to the company itself, as such indemnification is prohibited by section 247(1) of the Companies Act.

		Insertion of a new Article 41 in the Articles of Association of the company		The insertion is for a new article to prevent third parties from arguing, amongst others, that Article 34 of the Articles of the Company, in terms of which an indemnification may be provided to employees, in effect also constitutes a stipulation in favour of third parties, conferring on them a benefit, which benefit they then can claim directly from the company.
